THURSDAY, NOVEMBER 29, 1866.

We have received communications soundly abusing most of the gentlemen who have been named in connection with the Senatorship. None of these communications have been given places in our columns and none of them will be inserted hereafter. We believe in a wide latitude in the discussion of principles, but have little stomach for the traduction of personal characters.

OUR NEW PRESS.

To-day our edition is worked off upon the new press, manufactured to our order by the most experienced and expert press builders of the world—Messrs. R. Hoe & Co., New York. It is a complete success, and a most perfect specimen of mechanical skill and ingenuity, embracing all the latest improvements and inventions. Although entirely new it runs smooth and even, and, as our readers will perceive, makes a clear, unbroken and distinct impression. Our facilities, for working off a large and rapidly increasing circulation have hitherto been limited; now, with a press which can with ease run off five thousand copies in an hour, we certainly will experience no difficulty in keeping pace with the increase in circulation awarded us by a discriminating public, while we will be enabled to deliver our paper at an earlier hour than any of our colemporaries. If it becomes necessary to enlarge in the future—as the press of advertising upon our columns seems to foreshadow—we can furnish a journal much larger than any printed in this city, as our press has been built with a view to enlargement. In taking the press off the Messrs. Hoe's hands we desire expressing our thanks and adding testimony to the unrivalled character of their workmanship. Thanks are also due to Mr. Frank J. Burns, the master mechanic who put together the thousand parts of the new press in an accurate and skillful manner. Inside of three days he performed his laborious task of fitting the machinery, and, when steam was applied to the intricate press, not a piece was displaced, but all worked in the best manner imaginable. We congratulate Messrs. Hoe & Co. on the possession of such a trusty and reliable mechanic, who reflects the highest credit upon the establishment with which he is connected. If our new press ever goes out of order we want no better mechanic, nor more clever gentleman, than Mr. Burns to swing around our way to right matters.

In conclusion, we would urge upon our friends to renew their kind exertions in our behalf, assuring them that we are now prepared to enter into successful competition with our neighbors, and that there is nothing wanting to place us in the front rank of journalism in Pennsylvania.

MAIL GLEANINGS.

We have already noticed the finding of the body of a murdered man floating in the river at Louisville. The body was identified as that of a Chicago drover whose name could not be ascertained. As he was known to have a large sum of money previous to his death, in a belt about his person, it is presumed he was robbed and murdered by a heavy blow on the skull and his body cast into the river. The authorities are investigating the matter.

An interesting seduction case is now occupying the attention of the Chicago courts. A young man seduced a respectable young lady of "sweet sixteen," and induced her to run away from home and take lodgings in a brothel, where a dark crime was to have been resorted to in order that a fault might be concealed. Fortunately the girl was rescued and her seducer arrested, before an abortion had been procured.

A suit in the Supreme Court of New York attracts considerable attention, as it had its origin from the late war. It is a civil action brought against General Butler by John H. Lester, charging him with false imprisonment—damages laid at $100,000; and with fraudulent conversion of property—damages $50,000. Lester had received a free pass to bring his family North during the war from Secretary Stanton, which General Butler disregarded and imprisoned him.

The Democrats have undoubtedly played the wrong card in endeavoring to strengthen their ranks in Illinois by the negro suffrage doctrine. That State is decidedly opposed to allawing the negroes a ballot as in 1862, as was evidenced in the vote upon the question in 1862, which resulted in a majority of over 170,000 against the measure.

In Philadelphia a driver of a horse car fell from his seat and was cut in twain by the wheels passing over his body. The accident happened before daylight, and was not discovered till the horses returned to the stables without the driver. There were no passengers in the car at the time of the occurrence, nor conductor on duty.

A little girl named Anna McCall was seriously burned in Philadelphia, her clothes taking fire from a bonfire on the street. This is the second accident from the same cause in that city within a few weeks.

The longest message ever sent over the cable was from the Government last Sunday to a Foreign Court. It contained 5,000 words. Expensive talk that!

A lady in Philadelphia lost an eye through being hit with a stone, thrown from a "sling" in the hands of a young American David.

A number of Philadelphia colored soldiers have formed a Lincoln Company and propose emigrating to Liberia.

The Mercantile Beneficial Society of Philadelphia recently celebrated its twenty-fifth anniversary.

A young lady of Louisville was burned to death on Sunday last by the explosion of a coal oil lamp.

Johnson's extensive nail factory at Hollidaysburg, Pa., was destroyed by fire night before last.

The Petroleum works of Mr. Rowley, at Philadelphia, were destroyed by fire night before last.

The Louisville Journal celebrated its 37th anniversary last week by a grand banquet.

HARRISBURG CORRESPONDENCE.

Correspondence of the Pittsburgh Gazette.

Harrisburg, Nov. 27, 1866.

To-day a meeting of members of the Legislature convenes here to make their wishes known concerning the Speakership and other officers for the next session of the House of Representatives. The slate as at present arranged is in danger of being smashed.

The Senatorial contest presents no new phase, although the different candidates are actively pressed by their respective friends and admirers. The contest will be—indeed now is—reduced to a choice between Cameron and Curtin, and it will be decided in favor of the most Radical of these two gentlemen—whoever he may be—in the estimation of the General Assembly.

The Cabinet makers are now hard at work Gov. Geary has before him a large list of names for the various positions in his gift, and I am glad to see that the western counties are not wanting in men willing to offer themselves as sacrifices on the altar of Patriotism. From Allegheny we have the names of S. A. Purviance and Thomas M. Marshall for Attorney General, and A. L. Russell—who claims to be Allegheny county—for Adjutant General; Col. Jordan, of Bedford, a Mr. Hoffman, of Berks, F. Carroll Brewster, of Philadelphia, and Mr. Elder, I think, of Venango, are also pressed for Attorney General. For Secretary of the Commonwealth the names of Henry C. Johnson of Crawford county, J. N. Negley, of Butler and Thomas Cochran, of York, are before the Governor. The soldiers—those who have seen a battle—are exhibiting a modesty which is commendable. No one of them thus far has made application for the only position requiring a soldier, that of Adjutant General. I will keep my eye on this subject of the Cabinet and post you fully from time to time.

Suicide at Rochester.

We made mention a day or two ago of the suicide of a young man named Bell, at Rochester, and of his attempt to kill his wife also. The Beaver Local says of the affair:

A young man named Joseph E. Bell, living in Youngstown, Ohio, about twenty years of age, who had been a soldier in the 100th (or Roundhead) Regiment, was married about six months ago to a young lady, Miss Mary De Huff, living near Rochester. Young Bell, it appears, had an intention of going to Augusta, Georgia, to seek a situation as clerk, French troops south of the Rio Grande. He has been pleased with that city while in the south, and spent Thursday some time during the summer, and, in company with his young wife, visited around the several villages on the towns near Youngstown, among others Smith's Ferry and Rochester. They boarded always at the hotels, and appeared, as young folks generally do, to be enjoying the honeymoon.

About one week ago they came to Rochester, and stopped at Mr. Johnston's hotel. The young man was noticed by the boarders to be of singularly quiet and unobtrusive manners, and several times appeared to be plunged into fits of profound melancholy, from which he would by a strong effort arouse himself, and then for a time appear quite gay and social. On Monday of this week he procured some oysters and port wine, of which he and his wife partook in the evening. About 2 o'clock the wife awakened with violent symptoms of nausea and vomiting, which continued for some time, and probably saved her life. Her husband, on the contrary, was so far gone that he could not speak, and after lingering for a few hours in great agony, expired about 7 o'clock on Tuesday morning.

Dr. Marquis being called before death had ensued upon examination found that the unfortunate young man had taken an overdose of morphine. A coroner's jury was empannelled, and after a long deliberation elicited the above facts, and that the wine contained the poison which caused his death. During the investigation, the following was found written on an envelope in the pocket book of the deceased:

"This is to certify that I have of my own accord put an end to my own life.

"Jos. Bell, Youngstown, O."

The verdict of the jury was, that the deceased came to his death by means of poison administered by himself."

Why the Sky is Blue.

It is generally supposed that the blue color of the sky is due to moisture in our atmosphere and the idea seems to be confirmed by the intensity of the color during the moist weather of summer, when compared with the sky of the more dry weathered winter. It has recently been shown by Prof. Cooke, of Cambridge, in a paper read to the American Academy of Arts and Sciences, that this view is correct. He has found by means of the spectroscope, a very delicate instrument of analysis, by which the most minute substances, even when at a distance, can be detected, that the aqueous vapor of the atmosphere absorbs most powerfully the yellow and red rays emanating from the sun, leaving the blue rays to be transmitted, and thus accounting for the color of the sky. The instrument also proves that the color is due to simple absorption of these rays by the water, and not to repeated reflections from the surface of an infinity of drops, as has been supposed.

—The following were the pictures which brought the highest prices at a sale in New York last week: "Sunset at Sea," by James Hamilton, $147 50; "The Intelligent Poodle," by Boker, $167 50; "Hungarian Shepherd," by Von Horn, $205; "The Letter Writer," by Schmidt, $245; "The Good Natured Child," by Barron de Leys, $237 50; "Winter Landscape," by H. Lot, $257 50; "Eagles and Wolves," by Lachenwitz, $340; "The Quarrel," by Carl Rubner, $260; "Coast of Scotland," by J. Webb, $225; "A Storm," by E. C. Post, $105; Artists on a sketching Tour," by Keis, $350; "Landscape and Cattle," by Wm. T. Van Starkenburgh, $230.

—It is the fashion in California for gentlemen to take their families to the country and camp out for a month. They pitch their tents and live in a style of happy life, shooting, hunting, fishing and cooking. The doctors object to the fash on, as it is conducive to health. Miners are only number of ladies who can handle a double-barrel rifle with effect, and bring down their birds with the nonchalance of old sportsmen.

—At least £15,000 passes annually through the hands of the editors of Bell's Life, in London, as stakeholders for the various matches mentioned in their paper. This will give a faint idea of the extent to which betting is carried on in England.

The Evening Star says that J. Edgar Thompson, President of the Pennsylvania Railroad, and Gilead A. Smith, an American banker in London, have secured the co-operation of English capitalists for the establishment of a line of steamers from this port to Liverpool.

A special dispatch from Washington to the Evening Telegraph says that the Grand Jury of the Criminal Court have found a true bill of indictment against Sanford Conover alias Charles A. Dunham, for perjury in swearing before the Judiciary Committee of the House of Representatives that certain depositions, made by Joseph A. House under the name of Wm. Campbell and W. H. Roberts, under the name of Wm. Campbell and W. H. Roberts, under the name of Wm. Campbell and W. H. Roberts, under the affidavits, it will be recollected, were made before Judge Advocate General Holt, and tended to show that the assassination of the late President Lincoln was the result of a plot procured by Jefferson Davis. Subsequently the parties making them appeared before the Judiciary Committee and acknowledged that the affidavits were false and were got up at the instance and procurement of Conover. The accused is still in jail, having been unsuccessful in procuring bail. He has retained Mr. H. C. Goodman, a brother of Marshal Goodling, as his counsel.

Fenian Matters—Stephens' Movements —Search Largely Arrested—Senator Fessenden.

New York, November 28.—It is denied, in Fenian authority, that President Roberts has given arms to Head Centre Stephens, or in any way connived at the efforts to expatriate Ireland. The men in Ireland are, it is said, destitute of arms, and any attempt at rebellion there, at present, will only result in a butchery of unarmed men. The story that Stephens sent a large quantity of arms to Ireland is also said to be untrue, as he is alleged to have converted everything he could into cash in New York.

Henry Greateaux was arrested in this city, charged with having forged 2,000 one pound notes on the Union Bank, of Manchester. Greateaux was a paotographer, and brought with him a young lady whom he employed in his gallery, leaving behind a wife and three children. Engraving of the forgery was also found among his baggage. He is in custody, awaiting an examination before United States Commissioner Newton. The Superintendent of the Glasgow police is here with the necessary papers from the British Government, asking for the extradition of the forger.

Senator Fessenden, of Maine, was received at the Union League Club House, this evening.

J. R. Auld, for many years Mayor's Secretary, died to-day.

Ira Barber and Thomas Haggott are on trial here, charged with manufacturing cigars without paying the revenue tax thereon.

Reports Concerning the Occupation of Matamoras.

New York, Nov. 28.—The Post's Washington special says: The Government has received no information of the occupation of Matamoras by the United States troops. A dispatch just received from General Sheridan mentions that such a rumor is current in New Orleans but he discredits it. Exaggerated reports on this subject are set afloat from Washington in order to influence the markets.

The Commercial's Washington special says: A report prevails that a collision had actually occurred between the United States and the French troops south of the Rio Grande. So far, however, no reliable information has been received. No trouble is apprehended from the occupation of Matamoras by American troops. Escobedo moved upon Matamoras with a sufficient force to defeat Canales, and as the Liberals who held the city would surely fall, the American soldiers were merely dispatched to prevent pillage and rapine. Canales, if captured, was to be shot by Escobedo. General Sheridan dispatched the troops on his own responsibility. The Administration here knew nothing in advance of the movement, and did not disapprove of Sheridan's conduct. General Sheridan was entrusted with large discretionary power, and his instructions comprised the following: That President Commissioners, under an act approved June 21st, 1865, to ascertain the amount of damages sustained by West Virginia for raising State forces.

A drum court martial, appointed to meet at Raleigh, N. C., to investigate the charges preferred by General Steedman, against the officers of the Freedmen's Bureau, in North Carolina, have adjourned, and their report is in the hands of the Judge Advocate General. They have exonerated Swayne and had no punishment the court awarded, is not ascertained.

Improvement of the Mississippi River —Wealth of Montana.

St. Louis, Nov. 28.—In view of the completion of the survey of the Mississippi Rapids by Gen. Wilson, and the possible recommendation by him of the construction of a canal around the rapids, by means of improving the navigation of the river, the Merchants Exchange of this city adopted a series of resolutions calling all citizens in States bordering on the Mississippi River, who are interested in river commerce, to meet in Convention in this city on January next, and take steps to bring the matter specially before Congress, and to appoint the following as a Committee of merchants to wait on General Wilson and represent to him the advantages of canals over simpler improvements.

Gov. Mitchell, of New Mexico, en route to Washington, where he will spend the winter.

T. W. Tipton, U. S. Senator elect from Nebraska, passed through here yesterday en route for Washington.

It is estimated that twelve to fifteen millions gold dust reached St. Joseph this year from Montana.

Intelligence from the Rio Grande—Louisiana State Fair.

New Orleans, November 28.—Our dispatches from this point yesterday furnished intelligence from Rio Grande as late as the 23d inst., one day later than that of the Galveston dispatches re-telegraphed from New York today. The report of the latter that General Sedgewick had crossed troops and taken possession of Matamoras is evidently a canard. General Sedgwick had paid an unofficial visit to Brownsville, and had returned before, $25 to one of his hands, and is richer by that amount.

It is probable that the visitors had been to the place before, as on Tuesday morning Mr. Wolf found his door unlocked, though he had certainly locked it that night before. No clue to the thieves is had, but in the room being found in form for Mr. W. to identify them. They obtained entrance, evidently, by operating on the end of the key with a pair of burglars "implements."

This bold crime calls loudly on the Mayor and authorities for renewed efforts and on the police for increased vigilance and alertness.

Amusements.

Opera House.—The final representation of "Griffith Gaunt" was made last night before a full house. This piece has been withdrawn after a most successful run. This afternoon at the matinee the magnificent scenic piece, the "Romance of a Poor Young Man," will be given, and this evening "Eustace Bantin," the fair scene from "Griffith Gaunt," and "Mr. Smith and Mr. Brown."

To-morrow evening Mr. Leak takes a benefit.

Theatre.—Marietta Ravel, as the "Dumb Boy of Manchester," drew a full house last night. This evening Mr. Ravel's sons will appear in the thrilling drama, "The Dumb Boy of the Pyrenees." After this she will appear on the tight rope, and the entertainment will conclude with the "Doubles." This evening the "Wizard Skiff." To-morrow evening, on the occasion of her benefit, Mlle. Ravel will appear in the "Flying Dutchman," and will make one of her thrilling and startling appearances on the tight rope. This is the first time in many years that this piece has been performed here.

Holland Brothers.—The truly excellent entertainment of this capital troupe was well attended last night, though not nearly so well as it should have been. They give a grand matinee this afternoon. To-morrow evening closes their engagement.

The Juvenile Till Robber.

We yesterday reported the case of a boy who was arrested in the act of robbing the till of a grocery store on Palo Alto street, Allegheny, and who stubbornly refused to give his name. It was ascertained yesterday that his name was Barney Kearney, and he's father who resides on Shingiss street, in this city, has been notified. He was sent to the workhouse by Mayor Morrison that he had done everything he could for his son, but he had proved a very bad boy. Some time since, so bad did the boy become, he was sent to the House of Refuge. When he was released His father took him home, but the young reprobate proved incorrigible, and some three months since ran away, since which time he has not returned home. Once the father saw him entering the Opera House, and endeavored to have him arrested, but the youth managed to escape. Mr. Kearney now only asks that his son be punished, and said the law must take its course with him. The boy was accordingly committed to jail to answer at Court. Chief McKain brought the case up yesterday afternoon. The father says that when his son left home he had a valuable watch in his possession, which he has not now. Barney says it was taken from him by a comrade.

Open Part of To-Day.

Owing to the great business transacted at the popular sales-rooms of T. A. McClelland, Nos. 55 and 57 Fifth street, their doors will be kept open a portion of to-day to accommodate strangers who may be in the city. Here, as no where else, will be found such a stock of Dry Goods, Boots and Shoes and Notions generally, as can be obtained no where else at such ruinously low prices. The purchases of this house are made directly from the Eastern sheriff sales, auctions, jobbers, and of course the bargains are correspondingly great. For dress goods of the latest styles and patterns, cloths, cassimeres, and goods adapted to men's and boys' wear, shawls, hosiery, notions, shawls, and every article desired for winter use. We advise our readers to favor this establishment with a call.

A Stolen Shawl.

On Tuesday evening, officer Garber, of the Independent Police, arrested a man on Smithfield street, while attempting to sell a shawl, which he was suspected of having stolen. The officer conveyed the fellow to the lock-up, where he gave his name as Patrick Sullivan, subsequently, on searching him, officer Graham found on the prisoner's person a soldiers' discharge, bearing the name of Timothy Curran. On being questioned, Sullivan said the discharge was his, and that Curran was his name. He explained the discrepancies of the cognomens by saying that they were both his, and that he had a good many more besides. The shawl found in his possession was a gentleman's plaid, of large size and gray color. There seems no doubt that Sullivan Curran had stolen it. He is still in the lock-up.

The Overcoat Thief.—Robert Scott, whose arrest for overcoat stealing we have recorded, had a hearing yesterday morning before Mayor McCarthy, for the larceny of a coat and other articles of clothing, from William Greer, and was committed for trial. Two other coats which were found in the possession of Scott, were identified yesterday morning by Mr. Wm. Harrison, as his property. Mayor Harrison made another information against Scott, charging him with larceny, and a second commitment will doubtless be lodged against the festive Scott.

Fire.—The alarm of fire which sounded yesterday afternoon at about two o'clock and twenty-six minutes, from the Fifth Independent Engine House, was occasioned by the partial burning of a wooden shed, in the rear of Messrs. Pennock & Totten's foundry, on Wilkins street. The fire department was on the ground with commendable promptness and the flames were extinguished before serious damage had been done, though at one time the foundry seemed in danger of burning. The fire is supposed to have caught from a red hot casting.

FROM WASHINGTON.

Report of the Secretary of the Navy—Calen Soldiers' Graves—Corruption Among Government Agents—Court Martial Adjourned.

Washington, November 28.—The report of the Secretary of the Navy was completed today. It will be a very interesting document. Notwithstanding the peace which has laid up the iron-clads and reduced the active force of the navy to so small proportions, compared to what it was during the rebellion, the navy has been actively employed in foreign stations, and displaying the flag where, for four years, it had not been seen, and the navy has on the whole rendered good service to the country and furnishes material for a good annual report.

Col. J. M. Love, a Quartermaster, is pushing forward as rapidly as possible the work of re-entering and re-marking the graves of the soldiers who died during the war, either in battle or camp. A party of his men have just reached Staunton, Virginia, and are engaged in collecting the remains of those who fell in that vicinity. It has not been decided whether to establish a national cemetery at Staunton, or remove the remains to the one at Winchester.

Operations are also being conducted under Col. Moore's directions up Sabe Creek and to Appomattox Court House, where Lee surrendered. The bodies in this locality are being removed to the cemetery at Poplar Grove, near Petersburg.

Brevet Brig. Gen. T. D. Sewell, inspector of the Freedmen's Bureau, has been ordered to proceed to Georgia and other southern states for the purpose of investigating the complaints of speculation and corruption in the issuing of railroad transportation to freedmen, made in the Loyal Georgian.

He will visit the officers of the various railroad companies and obtain from them all the information they can furnish as to the truth of the charges, and will recommend such changes as may be necessary to correct any evils or irregularities that he may find to exist.

Nathan Wilkinson, Darbin Ward and John H. Broadwell were to-day appointed by the President Commissioners, under an act approved June 21st, 1866, to ascertain the amount of damages sustained by West Virginia for raising State forces.

A special dispatch from Washington to the Evening Telegraph says that a true bill of the Criminal Court have found a true bill of indictment against Sanford Conover alias Charles A. Dunham, for perjury in swearing before the Judiciary Committee of the House of Representatives that certain depositions, made by Joseph A. House under the name of Wm. Campbell and W. H. Roberts, under the name of Wm. Campbell and W. H. Subsequently the parties making them appeared before the Judiciary Committee and acknowledged that the affidavits were false and were got up at the instance and procurement of Conover. The accused is still in jail, having been unsuccessful in procuring bail. He has retained Mr. H. C. Goodman, a brother of Marshal Goodling, as his counsel.

From California—Libel Suit—Mining Shares.

San Francisco, November 28—Giston Dutois commenced a suit against the Alta (Cal.) newspaper to recover damages to the amount of $27,000 for the publication of an alleged libel about the seizure of the brig Basco, at Cape St. Lucas, in which the plaintiff is designated a pirate and robber.

Wheat sold to-day at $1.85. Mining stocks generally look well; Savage, 18; Belcher, 17; Imperial, 16; Gould and Curry, 13; Yellow Jacket, 95. Local Tenders are unchanged.

Fenian Call to the Ranks.

New York, November 28.—A call has been issued for a meeting of Shamrock Circle of the Feilians to-night. The address says: "Fellow Countrymen—Come forward. Will you permit O'Neill to remain alone? Perhaps he stricken down before you step into the ranks! Remember that the Fenian Brotherhoods are about to lift their hands and nerve their arms for the struggle. The Eagle will not protect the Lion. Let all be true. Irishmen, come forward to-night and fall into the ranks."

Schooner Capsized.

Duffins Creek, C. W., Nov. 28.—The schooner Swallow capsized and drifted ashore near Etobicoke Creek. The crew is supposed to be lost. She loaded at Highland Creek for Toronto. From the appearance of the wreck it is supposed that she sprung a leak and became unmanageable. The Captain was Wm. Hutchinson, a well known skipper on the Lake, having sailed on Ontario for over thirty years.

Baltimore Politics.

New York, Nov. 28.—The Commercial's Baltimore special says: It is rumored that Reverdy Johnson will take a seat in the Cabinet, and that the Legislature will elect Governor Swann to the unexpired term of two years in the United States Senate, reserving the full six years term for a straight out Eastern shore Democrat.

Suit Against Election Judges.

Baltimore, Nov. 28.—A suit has been commenced against three election judges for refusing a vote tendered at the recent election by a soldier in the late Union army, who is a citizen of this place. It is intended as a test case of certain legal points.

U. S. Senator Elected in North Carolina.

Raleigh, N. C., Nov. 28.—The Legislature of this State to-day, after four ballotings, elected M. E. Marley U. S. Senator. He was Judge of the Supreme Court under the southern Confederacy.

Oath of Amnesty Taken.

Louisville, Nov. 28.—Calhoun Benham, formerly United States District Attorney for California, took the oath of amnesty before the United States Court to-day.

Fatal Accident.

A singular and fatal accident occurred yesterday on the Pittsburgh & Cleveland Railroad, about five miles west of Rochester. Between two and three o'clock Mr. Ralph Russell, a potter, residing at Van Port, three miles beyond Rochester, left Van Port to attend to some business at a point west of that place. As he left the place he spoke with the ticket agent at the station, who states that Mr. Russell was perfectly sober at the time as I seemed the same as usual. Mr. R. walked along the track for a distance of two miles, when he encountered the mail train on the Pittsburgh & Cleveland road, due here at 3:40 P. M. The engineer of the train, Mr. Isaiah James, noticed Mr. Russell on the track while nearly a quarter of a mile away, but as there was a railroad crossing between him and the train, supposed he would leave the track in time for safety. The engineer rang the bell for the crossing, according to rule, but Mr. Russell, instead of leaving the track, kept on walking steadily toward the train and making no effort to get out of the way. At length, the engineer sounded the alarm, when Mr. Russell turned and walked with a staggering gait back towards Van Port, still keeping on the track. The engineer now sounded down brakes and the train was checked so suddenly as to start the passengers from their seats. The stoppage was not effected soon enough, however. When the train had approached within a few yards of the unfortunate man he was seen to drop suddenly upon the track and lie motionless there. The brakes were tightened again, but the train could not be stopped until it had passed over his body. So soon was the train stopped, however, that the last car barely passed over the prostrate man when the cars stood still. The conductor, Mr. Breed, had the injured man taken up and placed upon the train. It was found that Mr. Russell's right leg was cut off above the knee and that he was otherwise shockingly injured. He was brought back on the train to Van Port, and there left in charge of an employee of the train, whom Conductor Breen directed to attend to him. The injured man died very shortly after reaching Van Port. The deceased was a man of about forty-five years, and was a most estimable man, not at all addicted to drink, and esteemed by all who knew him. He leaves a wife and family. No cause can be assigned for his extraordinary behavior at the time of the accident. All the passengers entirely exonerate the Conductor and engineer from all blame.

Roberts' Fine Jewelry.

We yesterday paid a visit to the old established and popular jewelry store known as Roberts', No. 15 Fifth street, and had the pleasure of looking through the immense stock laid in for the holidays. It embraces all descriptions of jewelry, from the elegant diamond suites to the plain hoop rings and modest breast-pins. The selection of jewelry has been made with most excellent judgment, and few desiring to purchase can go away from this popular bazaar without being suited. We examined the solid silver ware that would reflect credit to the sideboard of a king, and less expensive plated ware which is so fine as to baffle the judgment and gain the ingress of superiority over the genuine articles. There, also, we observed fine Parian ware, rich antique vases, superb cutlery, beautiful clocks, ornaments, chaste statuary ornaments in the way of paintings and statuary, and in short everything usually kept in similar first class establishments. The firm deal very extensively in foreign and American manufactured watches which they are enabled to sell at rates as low as Eastern Houses. For any holiday present in the jewelry or silver line we cheerfully recommend our patrons to repair to Roberts, No. 15 Fifth street. Their card appears in another column.

Lectures.

Rev. Father Walt, a pulpit orator without a superior hereabouts, is announced to deliver a lecture for the benefit of the poor, at St. Pauls Cathedral, on Sunday evening next. The subject he has chosen is a good one, "The Church (Catholic) and the Bible," and doubtless he will be greeted by a large and intelligent audience. The proceeds are, we learn, to be entirely devoted to the suffering poor of the city, without distinction of race, color, or denomination, so hope the lecture may prove a pecuniary success.

At the Academy of Music, Rev. Father Vaughan, an Irish clergyman of material ability, lectures this evening upon the "Wrongs of Ireland." As the "green spot" occupies much attention just now, no doubt the voice from the sod, will be listened to by a large audience.

Aggravated Assault on Board of a Steamboat.

James B. Richardson is Captain of the towboat Kangaroo, and L. D. Davis is Captain of the Little Champion. Yesterday morning, as Captain Richardson alleges, he lay asleep on his boat, when Captain Davis came on board with an axe in his hand, and attacked the sleeping man with it, severely bruising him most numerically before he could defend himself. The injured man, with a badly damaged physique, made his appearance at the Mayor's office and made information against his assailant. Captain Davis was arrested and held to bail in the sum of $300 to appear at Court.

Another High Street Arrest.

Last evening at six o'clock officers Hows and Heasley, of the Independent Police, came across a man, too enjoyably drunk to move, sitting with his back against a wall on High street. He had evidently improved his opportunities before his powers of locomotion gave out, for he was plastered with mud from head to foot. The officers undertook to convey him to the lock-up, but he was so difficult to handle as a sack of feathers, and they had to press a wagon into the service. They loaded him on, took him to the lock-up and saw him securely locked up. He gave his name as Jas. McCarthy.

Alleged Larceny.—Kate Wallace was arrested yesterday and taken before Mayor Morrison, charged on oath of Mrs. Swinehart with larceny. Mrs. Swinehart resides on Seventh street, in this city, and the accused came to live as a servant with her. Yesterday she suddenly disappeared, and it was ascertained that a valuable cloak and a quantity of jewelry, valued altogether, at fifty dollars, belonging to the hostess, were missing. Information was made, and officer Hess, of the Allegheny police, soon arrested the accused and conveyed her to the Allegheny Mayor's office. She had a partial hearing, but was committed for a further hearing to-day.

Abused a Market Woman.—Kate Steifen, a German woman, residing in Allegheny, went to the market on that city yesterday and visited a stall attended by Mrs. Rhoden. The customer commenced, in the most unprovoked manner to abuse Mrs. Rhodes, calling her all sort of uncalled-by names, and acting in a very disorderly manner. The matter became so boisterous at length that she was arrested and taken before Mayor Morrison by whom she was fined $5 and costs. Perhaps she will be civil now.

Accident.—Yesterday a horse attached to a light family carriage, took fright in Allegheny, on Federal street, and dashed at a furious rate of speed down that thoroughfare. Two ladies were in the carriage, which passed on and coming in contact violently with the paved street, sustained serious, though not fatal injuries. They were carried to Dr. Thorn's office where their injuries were properly attended to, and from whence they were able to walk to their homes.

Stock and Real Estate Broker.—We would call the attention of our readers to the advertisement of Mr. John D. Bailey, stock and real estate broker, which appears in another column of this morning's issue. Mr. Bailey is a well known man in our business circles and to all who have business to transact in his line we would say, call at his office, No. 102 Fourth street, or wait upon him at the Board of Trade Rooms, over the Third National Bank.

Accident to an Officer.—Officer Teets, of the Allegheny night watch, left the city some time since on a leave of absence, and went on a visit to Columbiana county, Ohio. A night or two ago, while climbing a tree in pursuit of a turkey for Thanksgiving we suppose, Mr. Teets missed his footing and fell to the ground, striking on his shoulder and fracturing his right shoulder blade. Mr. Teets' injuries are painful but he is doing well.

Serious Accident.—As the Niagara Hose Carriage was returning from the fire yesterday afternoon, it collided violently with a loaded wagon, and two men who were riding on the carriage were thrown to the ground, sustaining severe and very painful injuries. The carriage was also badly damaged. We did not learn the names of the injured men.

Personal.—Hon. Simon Cameron, arrived in town yesterday, and is stopping at the Union Depot Hotel.

Hon. George V. Lawrence, M. C., from the Washington District, is also in town and is stopping at the Monongahela House.

Child Lost.—Louisa Brisendoffer, a little girl between eleven and twelve years of age, left her father's residence on Fifth avenue, in this city, some twelve day ago, and has not been heard of since. Any information concerning her will be thankfully received by her parents.

Common Cases.—Officers Smith and McNeely, of the Allegheny night watch, arrested yesterday morning two men, named Thomas and Jas. Kelly, on the charge of drunk and disorderly conduct. Mayor Morrison discharged one of the prisoners, on account of his having but one arm. The others were fined $1,50 each.

Thanksgiving Sermon.—Rev. E. B. Snyder, pastor of the Christ M. E. Church, on Penn street, will preach at that Church this morning at 10½ o'clock. Subject—"Divine Providence Illustrated by our National Crisis."

The Funny Men of the Press.

Some of the "locals" of Pittsburgh are funny fellows. They have infinite jest in them and are nothing, if not personal. They hear of a "good thing" and cannot rest until they have lugged into print the name of some gentleman, however remotely connected with the affair. This they do just for a joke. They do not see, as duller mortals do, that there is nothing funny in thus advertising before the public, names with which the public has nothing to do.

The latest "big thing" in the way of funny locals, is the little thing of the Dispatch. That sheet makes a little jump now and then towards the field of humor, but alights some distance short of it. The youth who takes the part of funny man in the Dispatch office, is a business and meets with poor success. He makes the poorest kind of a funny man, probably, because he has not been it very long. In view of his poor achievements as a joker, we advise him to attempt nothing more in that line.

More of It.

Blessed are the poor, for the sneak thieves do not regard them. Blessed is he who has no more clothes than he can carry about with him, for he may keep his overcoat; but with most men at the present time the keeping of overcoats is the most difficult of achievements. We have been called upon many a time of late to record the theft of overcoats On Monday evening the law office of Messrs. Hopkins and Negley, No. 62 Fifth avenue, was entered during the absence of the members of the firm, and a claret-colored beaver cloth overcoat, belonging to Mr. Lazear, stolen therefrom. The thief made good his escape with his booty, and thus far no clue of him has been obtained. The coat had been worn a little, but on the day of the

TO YEARLY ADVERTISERS.

Owing to the large amount of advertising patronage with which we are favored, and for which we are duly thankful, and the increase of our circulation, altogether beyond our present means to supply as promptly as we ought, we find it generally inconvenient, and sometimes quite impossible, to insert changes for yearly advertisers, unless left at our counting-room before seven o'clock in the evening.

NO PAPER TO-MORROW.

By appointment of the Chief Executive of the Nation, and of the Governor of our Commonwelth, to-day will be observed as one of thanksgiving and prayer. In order that all employed upon the GAZETTE may properly observe and enjoy the holiday, no paper will be issued to-morrow from this office.

PRISONS AND PRISON DISCIPLINE.

3. The Insufficiency of the System of Discipline Pursued to Induce Reformation in the Persons Subjected to It.

Individuals connected with the administration of criminal justice are not only connusant of the fact, but are appalled by it, that criminals are rarely reformed. More are damaged in their morals than benefitted by the discipline to which they are subjected. This is sometimes attributed to the contact of novices in crime with hardened and persistent offenders; but the constant recurrence of the phenomenon leads sager thinkers to conclude that the system itself is wrong. Surely, if crime imparts both an irradicable taint and an overpowering impulse to the repetition of offences, to combat which all discipline is futile, then the more quickly culprits are cut off the better for society. But few individuals can be found who do not reluctate at accepting the conclusion that crime plunges those guilty of it beyond reclamation. Instances to the contrary exist; nay, the vilest transformed into the most noble, attest that such is not the fact. It must be, therefore, that the cure of delinquents is sought to be attained by defective methods.

Three elements enter into the present system of Prison Discipline; solitary confinement, coarse food, and hard labor. Let us consider these first as curatives, and afterwards as punishments.

As a temporary expedient, to beget reflection and review, solitary confinement, doubtless has its uses. Beyond this it must necessarily be mischievous. In the nature of things constant and protracted introspection induces an abnormal condition of the intellect and affections. Instead of curing diseased or disordered action of the faculties, such treatment tends to make bad worse. Reports of Lunatic Asylums establish the fact that farmers suffer more from insanity than any other class of people. The comparative isolation in which they live leads them to turn their thoughts inward so intently as to produce an unhealthy action of the mind. Not even the unwholesome excitements of metropolitan existence are so dangerous in this particular. Much more must this tendency be developed as the segregation is made more complete. Even in religious houses, it may well be doubted, if the enforced or voluntary seclusion of the cloister has a beneficial effect either upon mental soundness or moral purity. If it has such a tendency we have singularly failed to discover it in a rigid scrutiny of monasticism, conducted without prejudice, and covering wide eras of time, as well as great diversities of religious faiths.

But, it may be safely questioned whether the confinement of our larger prisons is solitary in any proper sense. We are apt to think an examination would show that it furnishes facilities for most of the mischiefs of the gregarious system, with none of the advantages thereof. In other words, that it embodies the bad of both systems, and the good of neither.

Plain food may be a specific for dyspepsia, to people who have rioted in indulgence, but how it can soften a seared conscience is not so palpable. Hard fare has driven more people into crime than it will ever lead out. It is unquestionably a great virtue to "keep the body under," but that maceration is an exemplification of that duty, we do not believe. Good food, enough of it, and the greater the variety the better, is essential to the health of body and mind.

The effects of food upon physical health received strong illustration during the rebellion. The officers fared better than the men by virtue of rank. The result was a greatly reduced ratio of mortality from disease among them as compared with the men they commanded. If the design of plain food in prisons is to enfeeble all to whom it is given, and to kill a certain per centage, the block or the scaffold might be found a humaner instrument of decimation.

Work is good for anybody. The best thing there is about multitudes of men who never went to prison is the work the world gets out of them. Nor is work beneficial simply because it produces. It is, too, a most potent instructor. Not a few have learned more with their fingers than they ever learned with their heads; and, consequently, can turn their digets to a better practical account than they can their brains. So far as labor enters into the prison course it cannot fail of being beneficial; but the amount of advantage derivable from it must depend upon what sort it is, and upon the conditions under which it is used. This we have already considered.

Nor let us inquire as to the sufficiency or adaptability of punishment to produce moral reformation. And mark; we do not intend to touch upon the equity of punishment; upon the intrinsic justice of inflicting a given amount of torture for a given degree of guilt. The point we aim at now is to ascertain what effect, if any, bodily pain has to work a reformation of life. There are persons who fancy they see a necessary connection between a lacerated back and a penitent heart. Much delusion has prevailed on that subject. The whipping post, as a legal institution, and the inquisition, as a theologic one, were founded and conducted, under the influence thereof. Ascetics have often tried to flagellate their own bodies so thoroughly as to expel all evil desires from their souls. Their confessions proclaim how miserably they all failed. Luther made some sound remarks on this head, but in language so coarse we shall not offend modern ears by repeating it. Many a father has unwisely whipped all self-respect and all virtuous inclination out of his son. It is far easier to whip the devil into a child, than to whip him out. Recently, a clergyman, in chastising his child got so much of the infernal one into himself that he whipped the child to death. He did better than some parents do, who so whip children that they remain devils all the rest of their lives.

Christianity teaches some lessons on this subject, the world manifests astounding dullness in learning. It tells of a place where punishment is inflicted, not in wrath nor vengeance, but in vindication of truth and justice and law. It is always proportioned to the deservings of the offender. There is no account that angels or men were ever made better by being subjected to that discipline. No saints show diplomas as graduates of that institution. Yet the best is there done, that punishment is capable of. How much less is to be expected when punishment is administered by fallible men upon each other is a problem certainly worth thinking upon. Nor is this all that christianity inculcates on this subject. If it was, we should be compelled to rest in a negation. A low, sweet voice, echoing from Cavalry through the ages, has subdued more hearts than the awful thunders of Sinai. Vengeance hardens, while love melts.

It is, indeed, strange that the Christian world has been so slow in learning this great lesson, whose excellence is attested not alone by theory, but by the concurrent history of many nations. There was a time when all codes of law, like that of Draco, were written in blood. It is undeniable that ameliorations of penal codes have uniformly attended social and moral elevation, and with the best consequences. Which has had priority in the order of succession, it is not worth while to consider nicely, for the two have acted and re-acted upon each other. The end is not yet, and will not be until law shall be administered not in wrath and vengeance, but in benevoleace and love.

THE IMPOTENCE OF PATRONAGE.

Every citizen understands that as one of the consequences of the war the patronage of the national government, lodged mainly in the hands of the President, has been vastly increased. Before the rebellion the governmental patronage was confined mainly to the departmental buildings, to the revenue offices located in a few of the principal cities, and to the postoffices scattered up and down the country. The number of persons employed in at least three of the Departments at Washington have been greatly increased, and the introduction of the Internal Revenue system has created several valuable places in every Congressional district. In addition, the increase of the regular army and navy has not only created additional offices, but has swelled the profitableness of the contracts.

It was upon this consideration chiefly that the President and his familiars relied for sapping the integrity of the Republican party. They counted patronage to be omnipotent, believing that tens of thousands of men were waiting to be bought. This was manifested by threats to revenue officeholders who did not evince as much zeal as was desired in their admission to new doctrines and in seconding the great betrayal. It was farther seen in the diligence with which search was made for men who were in market, and the readiness with which such were snapped up and appropriated.

At one point of time Republicans who were conscious of being actuated by pure and disinterested motives themselves, went so far as to distrust the integrity of their fellows, and became fearful lest it should be shown that rottenness had run through all orders of society.

The ordeal has been passed. Here and there, in large centres of population, a perceptible impression was made on the popular vote; the democratic strength was palpably increased. But taking the northern States collectively it is surprising to find how few republicans were influenced by sordid motives. Where one instance of defection can be produced, the effect of ambition or of greed, many cases of moral heroism can be shown. In multiplied instances large temptations were laid in the way of poor men without deflecting them in the slightest degree from the path of honor and duty. Indeed, it is difficult to conceive of a numerous body of men surpassing the fidelity of the men placed in office during the administration of President LINCOLN. So long as the memory of their conduct lasts politicians ought to be exempted from anathema as not being fully as trustworthy as any other class of men whatever. They have gone through the fire. They have stood the test. In most difficult circumstances, they have not flinched. If they had been as mercenary as they have sometimes been reputed, the cause would have been lost, and the waters of a deluge would now be sweeping over the country.

UNION PACIFIC RAILWAY, SECOND DIVISION.

Correspondence of the Pittsburgh Gazette.

PITTSBURGH, Nov. 27, 1866.

CONCLUSION.

In our late very interesting and very pleasant excursion to the present verge of civilized life in the State of Kansas, on the Union Pacific Railway, Eastern Division, I omitted no opportunity that presented itself to make myself thoroughly conversant with all that relates to this new and important national thoroughfare, and to observe the magnificent region through which it passes. In my previous letters I have spoken of both these pretty fully, and only briefly of the personal adventures of myself and party. Utility, rather than amusement, is what I aimed at both in travelling and writing. I now propose to sum up the whole matter.

The Union Pacific Railway, Eastern Division, which starts from the Missouri at Kansas City, at the mouth of the Kansas river, and runs almost due west up the valley of that river, and into Colorado, and to the eastern base of the Rocky Mountains, is so called in contradistinction from the Union Pacific Railway which starts from the Missouri river at Omaha, in Nebraska territory, and runs up the valley of the Platte to the base of the Rocky Mountains. The Western Division is that portion which, beginning in California, is progressing eastward.

The average distance between these two great national highways—that of the Kansas and that of the Platte—is about one hundred miles. The Kansas road must deflect somewhat northward to reach Denver; the Platte road to about the same degree southward to reach the same point.

The original design was to make the road up the Kansas a branch or tributary of the Union Pacific Railway of the Platte; and by a law of Congress the Company of the former were required to make a junction with the latter at a point on the north bank of the Platte not farther west than the hundredth meridian from Greenwich. This would have necessitated the construction of the road up the Republican Fork of the Kansas, and a very costly bridge over the Platte river. It would, moreover, have left the Kansas road a mere subsidiary to the Omaha or Platte road.

But in July last an act of Congress was passed releasing the Kansas road from this obligation, and authorizing it to be carried up the valley of the Smoky Hill Fork, the general course of which is very nearly from West to East—a far more direct route, and one better in every respect. But the most important effect of this legislation was to render the Kansas road independent of the Platte road—each enjoying equal rights and privileges, and sharing equally in the bounty of the government. Each receives 12,800 acres of land, and $16,000 in thirty year government bonds, for every mile of road constructed; while each is bound to carry mails and military stores to the amount of the bonds thus advanced.

The Omaha or Platte road is completed some distance farther west than its rival of the Kansas; but as it has no eastern railroad connection, and as the country through which it passes, is yet unsettled, it has, as yet, little or no business. The latter, on the other hand, has already imported at eastern connections—the Missouri Pacific, with which it is in immediate connection at Kansas City, and the Hannibal & St. Joseph road, with which it is nearly united at Leavenworth—and is doing a large and profitable business, running three trains with passengers and freight daily, and carrying all the overland mails to Denver, Salt Lake and the Pacific States, and even some European mails to China and Japan.

The Kansas road has the advantage of itsmore northern rival in both soil and climate. Every mile of its route, from the Missouri to the mountains, is very good for either arable or pastoral agriculture. The finest stone for building purposes abounds along almost the entire route, and coal and timber to any amount are found on the line as it approaches the mountains. The climate is remarkably mild and salubrious. While we were at Fort Riley the only complaint of the weather was that it was too warm. This was on the 3d and 5th of November. The contractors, who were with us, calculated on at least six weeks more of good working weather, and that they would lose but little time during the entire winter. On the rich buffalo-grass plains, from one to three hundred miles west of Fort Riley, cattle subsist throughout the winter in good condition without fodder. So favorable is this region—which, until recently, we were taught to believe was a desert—that enterprising men who know it well are buying up many sections, with the view of going into the business of rearing stock, which they can transport to market over this road.

That these two great roads will unite, either by their main lines, or by branches, at the important and growing city of Denver, there is no reason to doubt. Whether they will there unite their forces to go through the great mountain region beyond, or go through independently, will depend upon future negotiation and legislation. Mr. George T. Wickes, Civil Engineer of the Pacific Railway, E. D., in his report, speaks of the route west of Denver City as follows:

"This route has been surveyed for a stage road, and compares favorably with other routes. Mr. Holliday's line, which has heretofore been running through the "South Pass," one hundred miles north of Denver, and by way of Fort Bridger to Salt Lake City, is to be abandened, and this route is considered the most practicable. It is estimated to be two hundred miles shorter than the present traveled route, and avoids the high divides which the road now passes over, both from South and Cheyanne passes, and furnishes an amount of hay not to be had on the upper route. From Denver it goes up Clear Creek, a tributary of the Platte, crossing the divide to Blue River, a tributary of Grand, following the Blue and crossing a divide at the head of Bear and Williams Fork to the White River, thence down the White and crossing the Green near the junction of the Uintah River; thence up the Uintah to Timpanogos, a stream running into Lake Utah, following which latter stream brings us within forty-eight miles of Salt Lake City, a direct route in continuation of the one up the Smoky Hill. The estimated length from Denver City to Salt Lake City, by the route above described, is four hundred and twenty-seven miles."

Should this route be found suitable for a railroad, it will give the Union Pacific Railway of the Kansas an immense advantage in point of directness and distance over its great rival of the Platte. But of that the reader is quite as able to judge as I am. It is greatly to be desired that it shall be so found; for then the road would not only pass through the richest gold fields of Colorado, but through the Middle Park, one of the four or five strangely grand and beautiful prairie valleys, set like gems in the very heart of the Rocky Mountainss the smallest of which is as large as eight or ten of our counties, and surrounded on every side by lofty snow-clad mountains, some of which are 16,000 feet above the level of the sea, and 10,000 above the smooth and level park. So pellucid is the atmosphere of these lofty regions, that, as Governor Gilpin of Colorado told me, with a good glass, a horse can be seen from the summit of the mountains in any part of the park, and so perfectly salubrious that no acute disease can ever originate there, or continue if brought there. "These parks will be the sanitariums of the world as soon as they are accessible," was his language in speaking of the health-imparting properties of their matchless atmosphere. The North, the Middle and the South Parks are only separated by narrow mountain ranges, through which there are practicable passes. They are extremely fertile, and clothed with luxuriant grasses and flowers.

It is a marvelous evidence of the wealth, energy, and progress of our country to see two such enterprises as these—two lines of railroad pushing their way onward towards the yet far-distant Pacific—outstripping settlement, and drawing after them a flood of emigration, and a full tide of civilization. Such progress marks a new era in the onward march of humanity, and is as grand as the magnificent region of which it is the theatre. It is well that there are two. Their competition will be advantageous to the country; and who can doubt that the bold spirits who are urging them on will be richly remunerated both in fame and fortune? C.

THE SEASON OF STORMS.—The blasts of autumn and the cold storms of early winter are specially hostile and unfavorable upon the constitutions of the feeble. In old times at the commencement of every season it was the fashion to take a strong cathartic as a safeguard against a change of temperature. It was a worse than senseless practice. The people of our day understand the matter better. Instead of depleting the system they reinforce it. In the method they adopt they exhibit a wise discrimination. Instead of resorting to the drastic stimulants of commerce, or any of the compounds derived from them, they put their faith in the only absolutely pure invigorant procurable in the human race—HOSTETTER'S STOMACH BITTERS. Their faith is well founded. Never has any tonic medicine been prepared with such scrupulous precision and such conscientiousness. It is a vegetable compound of which every ingredient is sound, wholesome and MEDICINAL in the true sense of the word. Now we have in it the most efficient malarial complaints. One-half of the adult population of the United States suffer more or less, either from disease contracted in the Mississippi Valley, or are subject to it on visits to the interior. In no other land under Heaven are these maladies so general as in this country, and HOSTETTER'S BITTERS is a specific for them all unless organic in their origin, and, therefore, beyond remedy. And those who are fortunate enough to be exempt from them at present understand one great fact, viz: That an occasional use of this vitalizing beverage will certainly prevent them as the sun will prevent the earth from ever using where its genial beams decend. no28-mwfsu2w

Meeting of the Allegheny Soldiers' League.

On Tuesday evening a regular meeting of the Allegheny Soldiers' league was held at their hall, a full attendance being present. After the calling of the roll and the reading of the minutes, a number of new members were admitted, and several, previously proposed, balloted for and elected. The Committee on Address to City Councils reported a paper, which, after being read, was, on motion, adopted and the committee continued. John G. Brown, newly elected Clerk of the Court, was added to the Finance Committee to receive contributions to the Library Fund. The resignations of Captain John C. Sample, as Corresponding Secretary, Lieut. Hamilton, Recording Secretary, and J. R. Oxley, Trustee, were read and accepted. The order of business was on motion, suspended in order to make nominations to fill the vacancies, after the nominations were closed the Library Committee reported progress, stating that their labors were meeting with flattering success. The committee exhibited a very hopeful feeling. In the Remarks of their Chairman, Mr. J. S. Edgar, who especially congratulated the League on their good fortune in procuring the services of His Honor, Mayor Morrison, to act as Treasurer of the Library Fund, a man in whom everybody had the greatest confidence. A communication from one of the Ladies Dramatic Associations of Allegheny was read, stating that the League a complimentary benefit, the proceeds to go to the Library Fund. It was on motion received, referred to the Finance Committee and Corresponding Secretary, and the thanks of the league returned for the compliment. A resolution was adopted tendering the thanks of the League to the Pittsburgh press, for their uniform kindness in publishing gratuitously matters pertaining to the Leagues. After the transaction of some unimportant business, the League adjourned to meet on Tuesday next at their Hall, Water street.

A Rough in Limbo—Desperate Attempt to Escape.

Frank McLaughlin, the proprietor of a drinking saloon on the corner of Wylie and Tunnel streets, came to the Mayor's office yesterday about noon, and made oath against a young man named Christopher Bradford for malicious mischief. The accused, it appears, entered McLaughlin's house, and after conducting himself in a riotous manner for some time, began an indiscriminate demolition of the bar-room furniture, breaking mirrors, tumblers and ornaments. While the work of destruction was going on the proprietor proceeded to take the information as stated. A posse of the Mayor's officers was dispatched in quest of the young desperado, whom they found still engaged in his ignoble work. Officers Smith and Wrigley and Barry attempted to arrest Bradford, but he resisted them without their host, for no sooner had they laid him than he began a desperate struggle for his liberty, striking one of the officers and prostrating him on the gutter where, the mud and offal had collected to the depth of several inches. Two pairs of 'snippers' were placed on his wrists and an endeavor by the trio of policemen, was made to drag the prisoner down Wylie street. But it was no go, they could not move him at all though the blood was running from his wrists, which the cord of the nippers were cutting into the flesh by the tightness. All attempts being ineffectual, a passing wagon was pressed into the service of the city, and after a protracted strife for the mastery, Bradford was tied and deposited, in which manner he was conveyed to the watch-house. He will have a hearing today. The community have good cause to rejoice that this young scamp is safely deposited in durance, where he is hoped he will remain long enough to have him taught some needed moral lesson.

Visitors Coming.

According to the Columbus Journal, Pittsburgh is to be honored with a visit from the eminent lights of the Ohio capital. The Mayor, Council, Clerk, Civil Engineer and reporters, of that city, are to make Pittsburgh a visit early in December, for the purpose of inspecting the workings of our Fire Alarm Telegraph, with a view of taking action upon a proposition of J. T. Elliott, Esq., (who superintended the construction of the telegraph in this city,) to erect a similar one in Columbus. The Journal says:

Mr. Donaldson, from the Select Committee, to whom was referred the communication of J. T. Elliott in regard to the Fire Alarm Telegraph, reported in favor of a committee to visit the city of Pittsburgh for the purpose of the working of the system there before deciding in favor of it.

On motion, it was agreed that the Council entire should go to Pittsburgh. The Mayor, City Clerk, City Civil Engineer and Reporters for the Press were included in the party.

Messrs. Donaldson, Patterson, Fell, and Ross were appointed a Committee of Arrangements.

Tuesday, December 4th, was fixed upon as the time for starting on the expedition.

An Old Trapper Gone.

On Saturday last Ignatius Adams, the celebrated hunter and trapper of the Alleghenies, died at his residence near Cresson, at the advanced age of 80 years. He was one of the pioneers of Cambria county and was known, either personally or by reputation, to probably every man, woman and child within its limits. With the fame as a skilful hunter was widespread, he was no less noted for his fearlessness and cleverness. While his name was thought worthy to be linked with that of the renowned backwoodsmackling, he at the same time was invested by common consent with the appellation of old school gentleman. His loss will be deeply regretted. One of the mineral springs at Cresson is named "Ignatius Spring," in honor of the old veteran. In Dr Jackson's singular book, "The Mountain," printed in 1849, in the chapter descriptive of the properties and virtues of the waters of Cresson, occurs the following: "If this spring has been named after the venerable huntsman, Ignatius Adams, who first discovered its life-preserving powers, and practiced the very best cure on his own person, a revelation of the secret of its true medicinal qualities. By drinking this water, dwelling in the woods, and eating venison, he has lived to near the good old age of 100 years."

Greene County Gold.

For nearly a year past it has been mooted about that geologists had found unmistakeable evidence of gold on Dunkard Creek Greene County. It appears that oil could not be found there in paying quantities, but some indefatigable miner exhumed a mineral chunk which glistened like gold quartz, and forthwith a corps of correspondents were employed to write up the discovery. A correspondent of the New York Spirit, published at California, Pa., says: "The gold shaft on Dunkard is making good progress, and everything looks to its being a success. It is nearly one hundred and fifty feet deep, and is five by nine feet in diameter. The assayer of the mint at Philadelphia, and other prominent business men, are deeply interested in the company. Its success would work wonders for Little Greene. The sinking is being done in a workmanlike manner by Captain Charles E. Seibel, a gentleman of scientific and practical abilities, and who has for twenty years been sinking shafts in the range of the Alleghenies."

A Fraudulent Cargo Captured.

The Steubenville Herald of Tuesday contains the following: Marshall Bunn was notified by Messrs. Moye, Champe & Company, of Pittsburgh, that one William Rommell left that port with a floating stone boat, for a trip down the river, without paying for his stock of goods. The Marshal, keeping his eye forward, captured the negligent Rommell on Friday last, at this point, with a cargo of whisky of an exceedingly poor quality, together with other articles, which he was selling out by the dram, to all who frequented his boat. The Marshal immediately confiscated the whole "shebang," for the debt of Moye, Champe & Company, which amounted to $107.35. The cargo will be sold this afternoon at public auction. Persons wishing a supply of instant death should invest.

Benefit of Sabbath Schools.

For the benefit of the Methodist Sabbath Schools of the First and Third wards, Allegheny, the Rev. W. B. Watkins will deliver a lecture in the Beaver Street M. E. Church, of that city, on Friday evening, November 30th, on the subject of "The Use, Abuse and Beauty of English Words." This lecture has been delivered before several associations heretofore, and elicited flattering notices from the press. The subject is capable of being elaborated in an interesting manner, and the known ability of the lecturer is a guarantee that it will be ably handled. Admission twenty-five cents.

Court of Common Pleas.—The case of Thomson, Reynolds & Co. vs. the German Gross Association, reported yesterday, occupied the attention of the Court all day yesterday, and proved to be the time of adjournment, the jury returned a verdict for the plaintiffs in the sum of $972.50. This was a very interesting case, and the decision of several other cases depended on the result. After the return of the verdict Court adjourned until Monday morning next.

Filthy Assault.—Mary McQuistion appeared before Alderman Lynch, of the Third ward, yesterday, and lodged an information against Elizabeth Curtin for assault and battery. The prosecutrix alleges that the accused struck her in the face with an old stocking reeking with filth from a cess pool. Both parties reside in "Hardscrabble." A warrant has been issued.

An Alarm.—Yesterday morning at about eleven o'clock an alarm of fire sounded from box No. 61, corner of Penn and Harrison streets. It was occasioned by the soot in the chimney of a house on Penn and Harrison streets, taking fire. The steamers were on the ground but their services were not required.

EARLY TELEGRAMS.

THE FENIAN EXCITEMENT.

The Fenian Movement—Troops Sent from England—Fenian Uniforms, Etc. Seized.

(BY THE CABLE.)

LONDON, Nov. 27—The movements of the Government against the Fenians continues. Another regiment of infantry will go to Belfast immediately.

A box of uniforms and arms has been seized at Liverpool. The box came from the United States.

The Daily News denounces the fierce threats of contemporaries, and says the rebellion must be suppressed in a soldierly manner.

Exciting News from Ireland—Fenians Ready for the Fray—The Blow About to be Struck.

NEW YORK, Nov. 28.—The World's Queenstown correspondent, Nov. 11th, says: I send you herewith an outline of the most important news which has come from Ireland for quite a long day. The blow is about to be struck at the power of Great Britain. Within a month you will hear of Ireland. We have suffer and starve, and are compelled to leave our native land. A few of us may be killed, but we can do no more. After the battle is over and Fenianism is once more crushed, I shall will not do anything for us by peaceable agitation. That has been tried. Every effort made to induce the Government of Great Britain to be just to us has utterly failed, and we now are useless and our arguments are unheeded. Our prayers are unanswered; for our sufferings there is no pity. I hope I have to show the English Government that it does not pay, that if they do not do us justice we will make Ireland a clinging curse to her!

The News from Ireland—Excitement in New York.

NEW YORK, November 28.—When at a late hour last night the World extra appeared on the streets with the exciting news from Ireland, the effect upon the city was unequalled since the news of the great victories of the rebellion. Places of amusement were thinned out by the people, anxious to hear and discuss the events. Hotels and other places of congregation were thronged with excited persons, who freely indulged in congratulations and hopeful expressions. The Fenians rushed to the meeting places of their circles, hoping to get additional information. Telegrams were sent to circles in distant cities, and instantly enthusiastic responses were received.

Stephens, the Head Centre, was invisible, and it is confidently believed that he has reached Ireland. It is said the Treasury of the Fenians was never in better condition than at this moment. The same enthusiasm which existed in this city last night prevailed in Brooklyn. The Irishmen of that city were deeply excited over the news, and kept up a constant call for fresh dispatches over the Atlantic cable.

Fenian Excitement in Buffalo.

BUFFALO, November 29.—The news, as telegraphed in the World's specials, creates something of a sensation in this city, and a heavy rain to-day prevents any public demonstration. The Head Centres here about have been very active lately.

The Mexican Imbroglio—The Course to be Pursued by the Government.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 28.—A report telegraphed specially from here last night to the effect that General Sedgwick, Texas, three days earlier, into Matamoras, at the head of a column of troops, for the purpose, probably, though not authorized to be published by the Government. General Grant has undoubtedly issued dispatches within the last day or two from Sheridan, indicating that the line of movement was likely to be made by Sedgwick upon his own responsibility. The men at the request of Juarez. The War Department will disposs Sedgwick, and the Government proceed to disavow an endorsement of the act. The publication in one or two eastern and western papers to-day, has been promptly telegraphed to the Government, and the following dispatch from them in turn to open a cipher communication over the wires with Galveston, Texas, with a view to peremptory action on the premises.

Libel Case Against the N. Y. Tribune.

NEW YORK, November 28.—Judge Nelson of the United States Circuit Court, delivered his opinion yesterday, on the libel case of Isaac Cook versus the Tribune Association. The alleged libel charged the plaintiff with having defaulting paymaster, having lost five hundred thousand dollars gambling, and that he was a full blooded negro. The witness for the plaintiff was a postmaster at Chicago, the proprietor of a newspaper there. The alleged libel charged him with being a party to nefarious correspondence in the case. Nelson declared judgment for the plaintiff on all demurrers to the pleas, with leave to amend on the usual terms.

U. S. Troops Enter Mexico—Dispatch from General Sheridan.

NEW YORK, Nov. 28—The World's Washington special says: The President has received dispatches from General Sheridan, announcing that General Sedgwick had crossed the Rio Grande, and occupied Mexican territory with a detachment of United States troops. He is already in possession of the city of Matamoras. It is understood that the movement has been made without any knowledge on the part of the President.

FINANCE AND TRADE,

WEDNESDAY, November 28, 1866.

The New York stock quotations to-day, as reported by Robinson, McClean & Co., were as follows: Gold, 143; 1881's, 113; 5-20's old, 109¾; do '65, 107; 5-20s, new 108¼; 7-30s, first series, 105¾; second series, 105¾. Michigan Southern R. R., 83¼; Cleveland & Pittsburgh, 84½; Pittsburgh, Fort Wayne & Chicago, 105½; Erie R. R., 71½; Union Telegraph Company, 46¾; Chicago & North Western, 44; Chicago & Rock Island, 103¾.

The eastern market was buoyant for the greater part of Tuesday, money was abundant at 6 per cent, with fair supply at 6 per cent, but, towards evening, buyers rushed in to make the small advance, and brought the entire list, save governments, down somewhat. Gold touched 143¾, but fell off to 142¾. Opening quotation this morning 142, with a further decline in the Railway list. The market is unsteady, but the tendency is towards higher quotations, in spite of the fears industriously awakened in regard to Secretary McCullough's forthcoming report.

There is some inquiry for local stocks, though, the market is not brisk. In Bank stocks, we quote as follows: Sales of Bank of Pittsburgh at 90¾—64 ½d for M. & M. National. 105 bid for Peoples National. 110 for Traders'. No Sales of Fourth National at 100. Sales of Manchester Savings Bank at 50¼. Central Skating Park at $5. Allegheny Valley Railroad Company shares at 16½. Columbia Oil Company at 15¾. Marine oil at 2¾. Sales reported of Triumph at 110, but we can learn of no bids above $1. No special change to note in the money market.

—Stocks sold Tuesday evening, November 27th, at Commercial Sales Rooms, 106 Smithfield street, by A. McIlwaine, Auctioneer:

Bank of Pittsburgh	67 00
Bank of Pittsburgh	67 00
Exchange National Bank	67 62½
Exchange National Bank	67 75
German National Bank	56 50
Manchester Savings Bank	50 50
Central Skating Park	5 00
Allegheny Valley Railroad	16 50

—The New York Bank statement is much more favorable than was at first anticipated. In loans there is a decrease of nearly $5,500,000 and in deposits there is an increase of $1,500,000. The decrease in legal tenders is $3,250,000, a much lighter reduction than was expected. Money is a shade easier. There is a light demand for loans, and the rate is steady at 7 per cent on stock collaterals and 6 per cent on Governments. Discounts are quiet at 7 per cent for choice names. Foreign exchange is quiet. There is a scarcity of New York bills, and but a moderate supply of cotton bills are coming from the South.

—A number of failures are reported at New York yesterday. One of the largest provision houses in the city is reported among the number, their liabilities being, it is stated, over half a million.

—There was less apprehension in financial circles for a day or two past in regard to the political situation, though both public and private credit, as well as every enterprise, continue to be depressed by demonstrations of the opposite extremes of sectional feeling. These, together with rumors of forcible combinations, have caused a very feverish and unsettled market for stocks, and especially for Government loans, which are reported quite inactive in the foreign market. Gold is up again from its lowest point of the day notwithstanding the commercial demand for the payment of customs is considerably less than it was a few days ago. The imports keep up pretty well, but a considerable amount go into bond. The export trade is moderate. The reassembling of Congress this day week is raising questions of much importance touching the tariff, the excise tax, &c., all which tend to check the movements and production of merchandise. Opinions of probable legislative action on these subjects are as diverse as the interests to be affected by it; and while we may advise caution and moderation, business in the meantime will necessarily rule dull.

PITTSBURGH MARKETS.

OFFICE OF THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE, WEDNESDAY, November 28, 1866.

The produce markets continue very dull and depressed here, notwithstanding there is a strong effort being made in the West to bolster up the market there. The impression gains aground daily that values are entirely too much inflated, and it is this more than anything else that has clogged the wheels of trade. The policy of those who do a legitimate business is to take in as small an amount as possible, reduce stocks, even if by so doing a little loss is incurred, and then, when the time comes, replace at the reduced values.

GRAIN—Wheat is very dull, and in the absence of sales, we quote nominally at $2.35 to $2,60 for No. 1 Spring. Oats in good supply and very dull at 50¢ on track, and 53 to 55 in a regular way. New Corn is quoted dull at 55 to 60—sale of 1 car at 60. No movement in Rye, though it is in demand at full rates. Barley is selling at from $1,10 to $1,15 for prime to choice Spring.

FLOUR—Is dull and neglected but without quotable change. Sales in store at $11 to $12¼ for Spring Wheat; and $13 to $15 for Winter Wheat, and $14 to $16 for fancy brands. Rye Flour is selling at $8½; and Buckwheat at $4½ to $4¾ per cwt.

MILL FEED—Is dull, though the supply is by no means large. Middlings may be quoted at $1,80 to $1,85—prime white $2. Bran and Shipstuffs unchanged.

BUTTER—Continues to arrive pretty freely, and with a supply considerably in excess of the demand, the market is dull and weak with a drooping tendency. Prime fresh Roll cannot fairly be quoted above 30 cts.

EGGS—Scarce and in good demand, and fresh packed sell readily at 35.

POTATOES—Peach Blows are in good demand and prices are well sustained; we can report sales of two car loads and two hundred bushels in another lot, all at 90. New Jersey Sweets are quoted at $5 to $5½ per bbl.

APPLES—Continue very dull with liberal receipts and very light demand. We continue to quote in a regular way in store at $2 to $3 per bbl, as to quality.

DRIED FRUIT—Peaches dull but unchanged—we quote at 18 for quarters; 20 for "mixed;" and 22 to 23 for prime halves. Apples still dull and hardly enough doing to establish quotations.

PITTSBURGH PETROLEUM MARKET.

OFFICE OF THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE, WEDNESDAY, November 28, 1866.

CRUDE—There are no new characteristics in the crude market to-day worthy of special notice. The demand continues light and the market is dull and weak, while prices have undergone no quotable change. Sale of 400 bbls (42 to 43 gravity) at 19,500 bbls (Smith's Ferry 40 to 45 gravity) at 19½; and five thousand barrels (40 to 43 gravity) at 19½. It is to our proper to remark in this connection that the last sale above noted at 19½, was an extra lot of oil, having been held here in boats for about ninety days, and was worth fully half a cent per gallon more than oil fresh from the wells, yielding as it will a much larger percentage of refined. For ordinary oil, quotations may be fairly given at 9½ to 10, in bulk and barrels returned, and 14½ to 15, bbls included, according to gravity.

REFINED—The market for bonded oil is quiet and unchanged. We can report a sale of 1000 bbls for January delivery in Philadelphia, at 34; and 300 more for same month, and a sale of one thousand barrels for December, after the 10th, seller's option, at 34½—considered a very full half a cent above the market, but it may be attributed to this fact: that the immediate duty, there is but little inquiry, and we quote nominally at 33 to 33½ in Philadelphia. Free oil is dull and unchanged.

ARRIVALS—The following arrivals were reported to-day:

Jas. Wilkins	206	Fisher & Co
H. Gatens	294	Brewer & Burke
D. M. Edgerton	600	Dilworth & Bro
J. Marshall	130	E. Pettit &

The Dry Goods Trade.

NEW YORK, November 28.—The Dry Goods trade continues exceedingly dull, and there is a great anxiety to reduce stocks, which are too large, but buyers are not to be found even at greatly reduced prices. Country dealers are overstocked and must sell before they can buy. Quotations of prices are mostly nominal. Manufactures are resorting to short time work. Unbleached shirtings and sheetings are inactive and with an increasing stock. Prices are lower and little is being done in bleached goods, only the very finest qualities sell at all; prints unsettled. Drills quiet. Canton flannels dull. Stripes inactive. Denims sell very slowly. Prints are accumulating in stock; the sales not equalling the fresh supplies, and prices are one cent lower. Ginghams are without activity. The is also a very limited business doing in delaines; fine styles alone are wanted, but in small quantities. In coburgs there is a small business doing. The demand has been large for the season, which is now just over. Shawls are more active than other goods, and desirable styles are very firm. Broadcloths are dull, and prices irregular. Fancy cassimeres also have fallen off in demand, and consequently in prices, now been curtailed, and manufacturers are working short time, but the stock of goods on hand is very large, and buyers can buy to great advantage. Satinets are inactive. Linseys are slow of sale. Flannels appear active and prices steady. Blankets are more lively. Foreign fabrics are exceedingly dull; there is a heavy stock from which buyers can select at favorable prices, the market being altogether lower. Silks have greatly declined; bonnets, delains, buff, black and colored silks, and woolen, all feel depressed alike. Auction sales have almost ceased, and trade may be considered over for the year, and dealers are now looking forward to the spring trade of next year, for which they will begin soon to make provision.

Buffalo Market.

BUFFALO, November 28.—Flour—900 barrels No. spring at $11@11,25. Wheat quiet; sales—5000 bushels Port Washington club at $2,12@2,15; No. 3 spring held at $2. Corn about $1 per bushels by the boat load; $1,05@1,06 for car lots. Oats quiet at 50c. Barley, 9,000 bushels at $1,05. Peas, 600 bushels Canada at $1,22. Rye quiet, Pork $22. Lard 14c, Whisky $2,35.

MARKETS BY TELEGRAPH.

Financial Matters.

NEW YORK Nov. 28.—The money market is rather easier at 6@7 per cent, for call loans with business reported as low as 5 per cent sterling. Exchange is firm at $1 09@1 09½ gold for first class bills. American gold is lower, opening at $1 42 advancing to 1 43½ and closing at 1 42¾. Exports specie to-day $250,000. Government stocks are steady. Freights to Liverpool are firmer at 5½d for barley per barrel and 7d for corn and wheat per steamer.

At the second board stocks were drooping. U. S. 5-20's 62, registered; 1 06½ do coupons 65, 1 08¾; ten forties, 1 00; Tennessee 68; new 54½; Missouri 87¾; Ohio and Mississippi certificates 29; Milwaukee and St. Paul 1st mortgage 90½; Western Union Telegraph 36¾; quicksilver 43; Atlantic mail 1 01; Pacific mail 1 70; New York Central 1 12½; Erie 71½; Reading 1 12; Michigan Central 1 12; Michigan Southern 83¼; Illinois Central 1 18½; Panama 264s 30; North Western 43; do preferred 71¾; Toledo 1 13½; Rock Island 1 05¾; Fort Wayne 1 04¾; Milwaukee and St. Paul preferred at 60¾; Indiana and Cincinati 88; Hanibal and St. Joseph 58.

The Post's money article says: The loan market is well supplied at 6 per cent, and transactions are reported at 5 per cent. Commercial bills are very slow at 70@8 per cent for choice names. Stocks dull. Governments firm at high prices yesterday and a fair business doing in 5-20s of 1865, being in request for European account. These bonds are intrinsically superior in value to the bonds of 1862, having longer to run. As the 65s are selling 2 per cent. lower than the 62, there is an obvious reason why the former should be preferred and little doubt is entertained here that in a short time foreign investors in bonds of 1865 will realize a handsome return for their foresight. After the board regular quotations were: New York Central, 112½; Erie, 71¾; Reading, 111¾; Michigan Southern, 83½; L. S., 119½; Pittsburgh, 88¼; N. W., 43½; do. preferred, 75¾; Ft. Wa. 105; R. [LATEST.]

The money market closed up very easy, at 5 @6 ₱ cent. on call, and there was more disposition to discount prime business paper at 6@6. Gold closed at 142¾ after frequent and wide fluctuations during the day. The two extremes were 140½ and 143¾. Foreign exchange is quiet. Government securities dull and low; registered, 112½@112¾; coupons, 113, 112¾@113; 5-20's registered, 102, 109¾@109¾; coupon, 108¾@109; coupons '64, 108¾@108¾; coupons '65, 107¾@107¾; registered 10-40's, 99¾; 10-40's coupon, 99¾.

Stock market dull and lower. To-morrow will be observed as a holiday. The following were the closing prices: Hale Certificates, 29@29¼; Canton, 40½@41; Quicksilver, 41¼; Mariposa, 12@13; do. preferred, 20@22½; Western Union Telegraph, 46@46¾; New York Central, 112½@113; Erie, 71¾; Hudson, 120@121; Reading, 111¾@111¾; Michigan Southern, 83@83½; Illinois Central, 118@119; Pittsburgh, 87¾@88; Toledo, 113@113¾.

RIVER NEWS.

The river continues to recede steadily at this point with four feet ten inches in the channel or the Monongahela marks last evening. The weather yesterday was warm and sultry, with occasional showers of rain, and there is every appearance of another rise being near at hand. It was reported raining at Oil City yesterday forenoon.

There has not been a single transient arrival since our last report. The Bellevernon from St. Louis, was due last night, and will doubtless be found in port this morning, and the Quickstep, from Cincinnati, will arrive on Friday.

The Rob Roy left for St. Louis, on Tuesday night, and the Argosy left about noon yesterday for Cincinnati. The latter boat had, a fair freight list, including a large number of "red heads."

Business continues very dull at the landing, freight being scarce and rates low, and what is worse still, there are no indivcdual trips present of any improvement. We are coguload for almost two weeks, and then going out with about half a trip.

The Camelia was unable to get off for Nashville last evening, being unable to complete her cargo, but we are requested by Captain Lytle to state that he will positively leave this forenoon.

The Bavard, Capt. Geo. D. Moore, is the regular packet for Parkersburg to-day, leaving promptly at noon.

The Wauanita, Capt. Shuman, is now in from her trip to St. Louis, and will be the first boat out for that point, on Friday. Shippers and shippers should bear this fact in mind.

LOUISVILLE, November 25, 1866.

EDITORS GAZETTE:—I have carefully compiled the following list of coal going through the canal here and destined for southern ports. The list, I think, is perfectly reliable and correct:

FOR NEW ORLEANS.	Barges.	Boats.	Coal.
Towboats	2	12	264,000
Alex	7	7	143,000
Dick Fulton	1 (fuel)	8	160,000
A. J. Baker	2 (fuel)	6	126,000
V. F. Wilson	5	4	135,000
FOR CAIRO.
Towboats	Barges.	Boats.	Coal.
Tigress	10	—	120,000
Valid	Andrew Ashley.		160,000
Lake Erie	15 (Pomeroy)		160,000
	5	5	135,000
FOR PADUCAH.
Towboats	Barges.	Boats.	Coal.
Arrow	3	2	70,000
FOR CLARKSVILLE.
Towboats	Barges.	Boats.	Coal.
Valid	5	—	50,000

So far as I can learn, no accident has happened. With the exception of the A. J. Baker and Panther, no boats have yet cleared, as all are engaged in towing through the canal. The Valid and Tigress, with the Pomeroy coal for McDonald and Priest at Cairo. The A. J. Baker left for the Southern yards of S. S. McDonald, at Red River, Baton, Rouge and New Orleans, having more or less of interest to your readers which I might communicate. J. S. Mc.

Captain Golding has chartered out his steamer, the America, to parties in the Nashleans, for two months, to ply in the Onachita river.

We find the following items from the Cincinnati Commercial, of Tuesday:

The Nymph will shortly enter the Manchester and Portsmouth trade.....The R. C. Gray passed down to Louisville, for Memphis or St. Louis, with a cargo of railroad iron.....Capt. W. B. Donaldson, of the Great Republic, Capt. C. A. Bravo and Col. W. Bennett, jr., arrived here yesterday.....Quicksilver, now in Pittsburgh.....Capt. Sam. Shuman arrived from Pittsburgh in this morning's train.....The license of first engineer John C. Oliver has been granted to Peter Hughes, at Wheeling, Virginia, for causing the explosion of the boilers of the Allen May.....Capt. Chas. Avery Bravo in town, selecting a new outfit for his new steamer Conchet. He may be induced to place her in the Higginsport trade.

The Louisville Courier, in noticing the letter purporting to have been written to Memphis Avalanche, in reference to Capt. Donaldson, and which is pronounced a forgery by Mr. C. Gearing, father of the reputed author, says:

The purport of the letter was that Captain D. was a "Southern sympathizer," and had employed Mr. Gearing to run the Southern end of his boat, said Gearing being a "returned rebel." We know nothing of the merits of the case, but hazard the opinion that a better man could not be found for the work than Mr. Gearing. He was a contemporary of Adam Wiegard, formerly of this city, and both were well-known cabin builders here. Mr. Gearing, with great genius, energy and skill, unrivaled as a mechanic designer, went to California, where he built several fine boats, and finally came here. Was the Eclipse, Louisville, or the Memphis, or any other Ohio, Western waters in its richness, beauty, magnificence, design, and outline. About 1854 or 1855, Mr. Gearing emigrated to Pittsburgh.

We also take the following from the same paper, in reference to the receipts and shipments of coal:

The receipts included nineteen tow boats with coal boats and barges, with 1,840,000 bushels of coal.

The shipments include the tows of the Ajax, A. J. Baker, Panther, Coal Hill, Victor Wilson, and Dick Fulton No. 3 for points below Memphis, chiefly to the Cotton States on the Lake Erie, Wild Cat and Tigress for Cairo, with about 1,300,000 bushels of coal, having left 540,000 bushels on hand at this port on the run.

The market is dull here at a decline, and the owners of the coal have started it south, occupying the canal on Saturday and yesterday with boats and barges.
